SURGEONS Make Public for the First Time the Details of the Operation.

Buffalo, Sept. 9.--The operation performed at the emergency hospital left no need for a second operation to follow it almost immediately.

Full details of the operation heretofore have not been known. It was performed by Dr. Matthew D. Mann. His first assistant was Dr. Herman Mynter. His second assistant was Dr. John Parmenter. His third assistant was Dr. Lee of St. Louis, who happened to be on the exposition grounds at the time of the tragedy. Dr. Nelson W. Wilson noted the time of the operation and took the notes. Dr. Eugene Washin gave the anesthetic. Dr. Rixey arrived at the latter part of the operation and held the light. Dr. Park arrived at the close of the operation. It was Dr. Mann who wielded the knife.

The operation lasted almost an hour. A cut about five inches long was made. It was found necessary to turn up the stomach of the president in order to trace the course of the bullet. The bullet's opening in the front wall of the stomach was small, and it was carefully closed with sutures, after which a search was made for the hole in the back wall of the stomach. This hole, where the bullet went out of the stomach, was larger than the hole in the front wall of the

ANARCHISTS
Have Been Pouring Into the United States

In a Steady Stream for the Past Six Months.

The Exodus from Europe Caused by a Fear of Arrest Through the Vigilance of the Police.

Special by wire to Times-Democrat London, Sept. 9.--The Scotland yard secret service men say today that for the past six or eight months there has been a steady stream of anarchists pouring into the United States. Many of these came from European countries and many have been living quietly in England. The exodus may be accounted for by the recent activity of the French police in view of a visit of the Czar.

BUNYAN LEMON

Special by wire to Times-Democrat Manchester, N. H., Sept. 9.--Rev. J. Bunyan Lemon pastor of the First Baptist church here in his sermon yesterday said that God's hand had guided an attack upon McKinley because the President had failed to do his duty when he had an opportunity to suppress liquor traffic in the Philippines.

That Were Issued Sunday Were All of Them Reassuring

Buffalo, Sept. 9.--Through the quiet, peaceful Sabbath every word that came from the big "victoria" house in Delaware avenue in which the French chief magistrate of the nation has been bathing for life was reassuring and the chances of his recovery are greatly improved. All of those who have kept the patient vigil at his bedside feel strongly that his life will be spared. The developments of the day were dreary but hour after hour passed and the struggling patient, struggling there beneath the watchful eyes of physicians and trained nurses, showed not an unfavorable symptom. Five times during the day the eminent doctors and surgeons assembled for consultation, and each time the verdict was unanimous that what change had occurred was for the better. Not the slightest premonitory symptom of peritonitis appeared and the fresh hope borne with the morning grew stronger and stronger as the day advanced until toward evening the confidence expressed in the president's recovery seemed almost too sanguine.

Dr. Charles McBurney, the famous New York surgeon who had been summoned in consultation, declared that the president's condition was satisfactory.

ANARCHISTS
Are Believed to be Plotting to Kill Vice-President Roosevelt.

Special by wire to Times-Democrat Buffalo, Sept. 9.--There is a persistent rumor here that an Anarchistic plot exists to assassinate Vice-President Roosevelt. Czolgosz's statement that he was alone in the conception of his crime is discredited and the police are keeping a sharp lookout for suspects in the eastern part of the city where Czolgosz lodged. Vice-President Roosevelt realizes that he is in danger and has surrounded himself with guards. This action is partly of his own volition, but it was amply supplemented by the feelings of the United States Secret Service officers, who were with him. The vice-president is brave but not foolhardy.

Expect a Confession.
Special by wire to Times-Democrat Buffalo, Sept. 9.--The police here still believe that the President was the victim of a deep laid plot and they expect that Czolgosz will reveal all in the next twenty-four hours.

A Capture in Pittsburgh.
Special by wire to Times-Democrat Pittsburgh, Sept. 9.--Carl Nold, leader of the anarchists in this vicinity has just been placed under arrest by the police. The arrest was made at No. 701 Wylie avenue. The charge against him is not yet known. Nold was a warm friend of Berkman who is now serving 30 years sentence for the attempted assassination of H. C. Frick.

Who were Arrested in Chicago are Still Held on Suspicion.

THE TIMES-DEMOCRAT RECEIVES BY WIRE THE TELEGRAPHIC AND CABLE SERVICE OF THE SCRIPPS-MCRAE PRESS ASSOCIATION.

It is a cinch that the democrats will elect Ja. Kagi for senator in the Findlay district. He is a popular man and an indefatigable worker.

Colonel Kilbourne, Tom L. Johnson and John R. McLean have all been asked to make speeches at the opening of the democratic campaign at Bucyrus on the 25th of this month.

A deed was filed Tuesday in Washington, D. C., transferring to William J. Bryan the Knight-Watchman, the free silver newspaper formerly owned by Senator Stewart, of Nevada, then called the Silver Knight.

The republicans of the thirty-third senatorial district turned Uncle "Tommy" Harbaugh down in convention at Delta after he had for weeks and months been promised a renomination. C. E. Godfrey, of Putnam county, was nominated on the sixth ballot and in consequence Harbaugh is sore.

The republicans of the Findlay senatorial district defeated Senator Harbaugh for renomination, and made a yearling of him because he supported the Clark local option bill. The idea of consistency entertained by the republicans in convention is somewhat anomalous. At the state convention Lieutenant Governor Caldwell was turned down for a second term because of his affiliation with the liquor interest, and now here comes this district convention and turns down a candidate because he was opposed to the liquor interest.

Hanna ousted the late John Sherman from the senate on the ground that he was non-compos mentis but he now sees how excellent Mr. Sherman's judgment was in the matter of colleagues from his own state. Sherman never would have a republican colleague from Ohio if he could avoid it, and he generally did, and Hanna, appreciating the wisdom of his distinguished predecessor in this respect, very much prefers a democratic successor to Senator Foraker. The legislature elected this fall will choose that successor and if Hanna can have his way it will be a democratic legislature.

The banks are beginning to discover a formidable competitor in the express companies for a certain kind of business. The American Banker utters a wail that is touching. It says:

"It is a pity that the Boston Clearing House Association should resort to the employment of the express companies for the collection of checks on those country banks that refuse to remit at par. The express companies are developing a regular banking business, and by many banks they are rightly regarded as dangerous competitors in many services rendered by the banks. They have become particularly formidable as collectors and issuers of drafts. Their collection business they are eagerly developing to the highest efficiency, and their recognition and employment by so important an organization as the Boston Clearing House is a particularly disagreeable fact. We cannot help noting it and protesting against it."

Theater-goers this coming season will have an opportunity to witness the dramatic form of quite a number of popular novels. It is becoming the thing to take works of fiction for stage presentation, owing to the theatrical success of "When Knighthood was in Flower," with Julia Marlowe in the leading role, and "Richard Carval" presented by John Drew. Much of the great theatrical success of "Ben Hur" and "Quo Vadis" was due to the books, and the same can be said of "David Harum." When people are interested in the novel they are generally drawn to the theater when it is presented in dramatic shape. The coming season, among other dramatized versions of novels, will be "The Helms of Navarre" and "Eben Holden." Successful authors are extremely lucky these days because of the theater. Their royalties for stage productions of their works of fiction, if they make a hit, generally exceed the sums they receive from the publishers of their books.

THE TERROR OF DAYLIGHT.

The apologists of trusts in the United States endeavor to show that this evil is not confined to our country, and even go so far as to assert that trusts are no more general or arbitrary here than they are in Europe. Professor Jenks, who investigated the trust question in Europe as an expert for the industrial commission, has smashed this pretension. He shows that the trusts there control the production and prices of nothing like as many articles as they do here, and that their power is puny in comparison with that possessed and used by the gigantic combines in this country. One of the chief reasons for the relative insignificance of European trusts is given by Professor Jenks as follows:

"The great degree of publicity in the organization of corporations has largely prevented the evils arising from stock watering, and has evidently had much effect in keeping prices steady and reasonable and in keeping wages steady and just."

If the light could be turned upon the organization of trusts in the United States, they would not be able to proceed in such a high handed manner.

They prefer darkness to light because their deeds are evil. They water their stock, scheme and trick with impunity, as their machinations are carefully concealed, but they could not succeed with their plots if they were compelled to proceed in the open.

The trusts fear publicity as the devil does holy water.

Turn on the light, and many of them would wilt under it.

The governments of Europe are offering a valuable instruction in this matter, but so far we have failed to profit by it.

SALMAGUNDI.

The Bible states that Lot's wife upon looking backward turned to salt but the more modern expression would be that she turned to "rubber."

The young American continues to go swimming just the same as though dog days were not over.

An old proverb says that it is as hard for a rich man to get into the kingdom of Heaven as it is for a canal to get through the eye of a needle, but it is harder than that for some people to quit talking about their neighbors.

Take Rocky Mountain Tea. See it exterminate poison. Feel it revitalize your blood and nerves and bring back that happy joyous feeling of boyhood days. 35c. Ask your druggist.

tory to all the physicians present. It is not strange, therefore, that the vice president, the members of the cabinet and distinguished visitors who called came away with lighter hearts and buoyant tread and gave expression to the most optimistic sentiments. The encouraging news spread over the exposition city with great rapidity, and thousands rejoiced.

Not Out of Danger.

And yet, despite all this optimism, the president is by no means out of danger. Not one of his physicians, not one of his advisers who is admitted to the inner councils, has the temerity to go so far as to declare that he is. But if he continues to improve for one more day the danger of peritonitis, which is most dreaded, will have practically disappeared. One of the doctors thought 48 hours would be the limit of the danger from that source, but his more conservative colleagues believe at least 24 hours, possibly 36 from this time, must elapse before the possibility of peritonitis shall have vanished. That disposed of, still other complications may arise. Blood poisoning might set in or an abscess form where the bullet is imbedded in the muscles of the back.

Thus far the ball of the assassin, which is still in the body, gives the physicians no anxiety. But if the slightest inflammation appears in the region of the lead it will be immediately extruded. No difficulty is anticipated in this regard. One of Edison's best x-ray machines and his most skillful and trusted operator, Dr. H. A. Knolls, has arrived. With it the physicians say there is not the slightest doubt that the ball can be located perfectly for an operation. They do not deem it advisable to sap any of the president's strength at this time. All his reserve force is needed now to resist the danger of peritonitis and septic poisoning. Besides, if inflammation does not set in around the bullet it will soon become encysted. All the effects of the ether which was administered when the operation was performed, on the exposition grounds, had disappeared, and the president's mind was perfectly clear during the time he was awake.

Sunday for the first time he enjoyed natural sleep. Also for the first time nourishment was administered. It was in liquid form and was injected hypodermically to avoid the necessity of irritating the walls of the stomach. The exterior wound was dressed and is progressing satisfactorily.

Vice President Roosevelt, after going to church, hurried to the residence. There he was joined by Senator Hanna. They came away together and gave expression to the most confident and encouraging sentiments. The vice president not only shared the cheerful feeling, but was extremely optimistic.

Cabinet to Meet.

All the members of the cabinet are now here except Secretaries Hay and Long. The former telegraphed that he would start from Newberry probably in time to be here Monday night. Secretary Long also telegraphed that he was coming. The cabinet officers feel it to be their duty to be here in this crisis to meet any emergency. They are holding no formal meetings, although there are some matters of public business which they daily discuss informally, and the possible contingencies should the president grow worse are also thoroughly canvassed. They do not believe that there is the most remote possibility that Vice President Roosevelt will be called on to exercise the functions of chief magistrate under the disability clause of the constitution while the president lives.

Vice President Roosevelt would not hear of such a course. Still, in the event of grave international complications, an emergency might occur, and the question has arisen in their minds as to who should proclaim the disability provided for by the constitution. That instrument is silent on the subject. There is no precedent to follow.

During the protracted illness of President Garfield before his death, Vice President Arthur was not called upon to act.

The messages of sympathy from all over the United States and all over the world, in fact, have fairly overwhelmed Secretary Cortelyou. Two more White House stenographers have been sent for, and upon their arrival perhaps some of the more important messages will be made public. Almost every government in the world has been heard from, most of the heads of European states sending personal messages. Among the latter are President Loubet of France, King Edward VII, Emperor William, the kings of Portugal, Italy and Sweden and the Sultan of Turkey.

McKinley continues to bear up bravely, and her fortitude under the circumstances is regarded as remarkable. One of her dearest and closest friends, Mrs. Rand of Washington, has arrived here and will probably remain with her during this trying period.

Abner McKinley, brother of the president, reached here early Monday morning. He was admitted to the house at once.

Foraker's Comment.

Cincinnati, Sept. 9.—Joseph B. Foraker returned home from New York and Washington. He first heard the news of the attempted assassination at Charlottesville. In commenting on the awful affair he said: "It would have been bad enough if the assassin had attempted the life of only McKinley, but he was not striking at the man so much as at the president of the United States, McKinley's whole life has been without fault. This ought to have been a safe protection for him while in their midst and would have been if the anarchist were anything but what he is. They are opposed to all law and order and are ready to murder even such a man as McKinley if the notion occurs to them. What the remedy is can not be so easily stated, but it must be found."

Cincinnati "Reds."

Cincinnati, Sept. 9.—The ramifications of the band of anarchists which is supposed to have been responsible for the commission of the terrible tragedy at Buffalo Friday are believed to extend into this city. The local police authorities have received a telegram from Chief Wilkie of the federal secret service department requesting the arrest here of E. Laux, 1420 Monroe street. Beyond this statement no information was furnished. Detectives have failed to locate Laux, as there is no such number on Monroe street. The police claim to have the details of a former plot which was hatched here and in which a Cincinnati man left here for Canton, O., the home of the president, for the purpose of murder, but returned unable to fulfill his purpose. It is expected that Emma Goldman visited here incognito recently.

Anarchists Celebrate.

McKeesport, Pa., Sept. 9.—Two hundred Italian anarchists celebrated President McKinley's assassination at Cuffey Hollow, a mining hamlet across the Youngstown river from Bucara Vista. Beer, whisky, speeches, songs and praises for Czolgosz were the order of the day. This is one of the largest anarchist groups in the country. It was started and led for years by Garcia Gimenez, who now lives at Spring Valley, Ill., and edits The Firebrand, the anarchist organ of Chicago. When Bresci assassinated King Humbert he declared that McKinley would be the next victim of the anarchist plots. He also drew up resolutions praising Bresci, which were published in Pittsburgh newspapers. Since moving away the Italians say he has still been an active spirit in the Cuffey Hollow group.

Prayers for the President.

New York, Sept. 9.—Not a church service was held in New York city or its environs Sunday at which prayers were not offered for the recovery of President McKinley. And coupled with these supplications was a strong undercurrent of thanksgiving that the tone of the dispatches from Buffalo were of an encouraging character. There was no concerted action in this matter by the churches other than that called forth by Mayor Van Wyck's proclamation of Saturday calling on the pastors of churches of all denominations to direct their services with special reference to the suffering president.

Assassin's Nationality.

New York, Sept. 9.—An indignation meeting attended by about 500 police, of which it is estimated there are 80,000 in New York city, was held at the Church of St. Stanislaus, and bitter denunciation of Czolgosz's crime were uttered, while the expression of sympathy for the president and those belonging to him was warm and universal. Doubt as to the nationality of the assassin was expressed, and it was decided to send a delegate to Cleveland and Toledo at once to look into his ancestry and to prove to the American people that he is not a Pole, but a Russian by descent.

Assassin Was in Chicago.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—If any further proof were needed that Leon Czolgosz was the guest of Chicago anarchists shortly before he went to Buffalo on his murderous mission against President McKinley it was supplied by three of the prisoners in the Central police station. They identified a photograph of the murderous "red" as a picture of the man whom they saw at the home of Abraham Isaak, 515 Carroll avenue, not longer ago than July 12. The 11 men and women who are accused anarchists were formally booked on the charges of conspiracy to commit murder.

Russian Views.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 9.—The Russian newspapers, like those of other countries, are intensely absorbed in the anarchist side of the attempted assassination of President McKinley, and they also express strong regard for the United States and for the victim of the outrage. The Journal de St. Petersburg says: "It is earnestly to be hoped that civilized communities will realize that all that has been done so far has hitherto missed the mark, and that redoubled energy is needed in the struggle against anarchism."

People to Have the Facts.

Buffalo, Sept. 9.—A statement intended to put at rest any idea that the official bulletins underestimate the conditions of the president and at the same time give assurance that the public shall have the facts was issued by Secretary Cortelyou. It reads: "The public will be kept fully advised of the actual condition of the president. Each bulletin is carefully and conservatively prepared and is an authoritative statement of the most important features at the hour it is issued. The people are entitled to the facts and shall have them."

Official Bulletin.

Buffalo, Sept. 9.—The following bulletin was issued by the president's physicians: "The president is resting comfortably and there is no special change since last bulletin. Pulse 130, temperature 101.6, respiration 30."

Queen of Spain Wires.

Madrid, Sept. 9.—Queen Regent Christina, wired President McKinley an expression of her indignation at the outrage and her wishes for his speedy recovery.

A Damage Suit

The Result of Polluting a Stream.

Another Divorce in Which a Wife Holds Her Husband
to the Light

Permits the Public to Look into His Character, According to Allegations of Cruelty and Neglect.

Henry E. Hoyer is the plaintiff in action for damages against R. J.
Hoyer, which was filed this afternoon by Hoyer & Hall. The plaintiff states that the defendant is the owner of 32 acres of land in Amanda ship, 32 acres of which is a running stream, which was used for water-the stock of the plaintiff, and other damages from her, but the water been polluted and rendered unfit for use by the defendant, who has employed acids, alkali and salt water in the stream. Several head of sheep and pigs have died and she has lost the business of others who had stock in pasture. She wants $500 damages and asks the court to enjoin the defendant from further polluting the stream.

Doesn't Lack Charges.
Elizabeth Stouffer was the third ap-pearer for a divorce during the week ended, her petition being filed before Judge Sprague, on Saturday afternoon.
Attorney Charles Sprague, in it, says that she was married to G.
Stouffer at Ottawa on the 2d of
Feb. 1888, and that four children, John, Ralph and Mable, aged respectively 12, 10, 8, and 5 years are the result of the union.

Her first cause of action contains allegation that the defendant assaulted and committed other acts amounting to a husband. She says she frequently declared as to the real cause of her husband's frequent absence from home, and that he pretended to be away on business, when it was for the purpose of consorting with women of questionable character.
He was away she had to feed care for the stock.
The petition also alleges that the plaintiff received letters from other women which tended to destroy the peace and happiness of the home, and added to this Mrs. Stouffer says her husband frequently beat her and threatened her life. The petition refers to two incidents of this nature; once in June, 1900, it is alleged the plaintiff was knocked down and choked by the defendant, and again on the 25th of September, he struck her, otherwise abused her, and after driving her from home ordered her never to return.

Mrs. Stouffer says she has not lived with her husband since and now she wants an absolute divorce and such other relief as the court may grant.

May be Released.

August Young, the driver who upset the picnic wagon a short time ago to the severe injury of several of the children who occupied it will be given a hearing before Probate Judge Miller at four o'clock this afternoon, and the probability is that he will be released. He is charged with "attempt to kill," a degree of crime which the offense scarcely merits.

In Probate Court.

Margaret Amman, wife of the late Frederick Amman, has consented to the sale of the property which the heirs asked for and waives the assignment of dower.

To Fix the Damages.

Solicitor Henderson, on behalf of the city of Lima, began proceedings Saturday afternoon to condemn the property of Bridget M. Nolan, to carry out the extension of Cherry alley. The action is brought against Rose M. Nolan, who is the legally appointed guardian of Bridget Nolan, the latter being designated as an imbecile.

The will of Isabelle Prather has been filed and probated. All the property is left to the deceased's husband during his life, and then reverts to the children.

VENERABLE

Citizen of Perry Township Passes to Rest.

Lemuel Schofield, a well known citizen of Perry township and a man who was highly respected throughout Allen county, died at 4:20 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of his son-in-law, Mr. Brentlinger, after an illness of eleven days duration.

Mr. Schofield was born in Perry county, Ohio, March 8th, 1833 and the three score and eight years of his life he spent creditably.
The deceased leaves three sons, Charles, George and James. One daughter, Mrs. Sylvia Brentlinger died several months ago. The wife preceded her devoted husband to everlasting rest about 4 years ago. The funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, (sun time) from the Cherry Grove church. Rev.
Tappley officiating. Interment will take place in Fairmount cemetery.

All roads lead to Cleveland this cities largely represented. The G. A.

from Sidney over the C. H. & D. and there were 12 well filled coaches.
The number leaving Lima over all roads is in the neighborhood of 500.
Depot for Findlay.

The rumor that the Toledo and Ohio Central and Big Four would erect a passenger station together on east Sandusky street has aroused considerable speculation in railway circles. says the Findlay Republican. Here is the way one of the railway men of the city put it: "The Big Four and Lake Eric and Western are building new depots together and in future years this association will grow still stronger. No sir; when the Big Four goes in with any road in Findlay to build a depot, will be on west Main-Cross street, where the Lake Erie and Western is going to build their new station." In connection with this the fact might be stated that the Big Four,
which owns the Belt Line, is making connections between that and the Lake Erie and Western at the Globe Window Glass works. It may be that this is for the use of passenger trains as well as freight.

Old Employee Dead.

Chestine Clarkson Cooch, for fifteen years the baggage master of the C. H.
& D. railroad at Hamilton, died at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the home of his father, W. P. Cooch.

At the time of his death Mr. Cooch was in his fifty third year. He had for a long time resided in Cincinnati up to the time of his death. In that city he had been employed as a book keeper for a distilling company.

Mr. Cooch had in the term of service as baggage master made a vast number of friends. He was always popular with the traveling public and many of those who as patrons of the road came in contact with him, will remember him kindly and learn with regret that he has passed away. The funeral occurred Saturday.

Suggests a Match.

An engineer who has faith in the speed of American locomotives and who has become tired of hearing them run down by the English, has suggested a way to settle the question of superiority. He proposes that the fastest passenger engine in England be brought over and pitted against one of the New York Central's or Pennsylvania's Atlantic type of locomotive. As the course to be run over he would suggest 100 miles of the Lake Shore road. Each engine would pull a train of the same weight. When the word go was given by the starter the throttles would be opened and would not be closed again until the iron horses went under the wire. Such a contest, while there is no probability of it ever coming off, would certainly be a record breaker if it did.

Excursion Withdrawn.

The notice appearing in this paper announcing an excursion to Fort Wayne, via the Pennsylvania line, on account of the Allen county, Ind., fair, Sept. 5 to 15, has been withdrawn.

Freight Business Heavy.

The first week in September, 1901, will be recorded the best week of its season in a freight business way within the history of the Pittsburgh road. It might have been even better had there been more available engines, for there was no time during the entire week that an engine able to pull a train was idle a moment longer than was absolutely necessary to "clean her out" and give her the little roundhouse attention she needed between runs. With the great number of engines now in service on the road and their immense tonnage capacity compared with the engines of a few years ago, the foregoing statement means considerable.
In fact, it means a traffic twice the volume of that of a dozen years ago.
Early September is not one of the busiest seasons usually, but if the volume of traffic furnished by the present week is maintained throughout the year the Pennsylvania will undoubtedly begin to consider the advisability of putting down a third track and placing in service many more engines and cars.

General Notes.

All the Southern Pacific engines will be equipped for the burning of oil instead of coal as expeditiously as possible. To that end storage tanks with a capacity of 30,000 barrels each will be erected at Oakland, Fresno, Mondo and other points south and east on the line.

Pittsburg fireman A. P. Collier had an ankle badly sprained at Middlepoint Saturday night while dismounting from the cab of his engine and will be unfit for duty for several weeks.

F. B. Duffy, of the L. E. & W. master mechanic's office, has gone to Cleveland to spend a vacation.

The L. E. & W. excursion from Indianapolis to Sandusky, yesterday, was well patronized. The train was in charge of conductor J. N. Johnston.
C. H. & D. Notes.

Chief dispatcher Louy, who has not been enjoying the best of health, will leave tomorrow for Mt. Clemens.
He has been off duty for a week or more.

Uniformed officials have been notified by Supt. Floeter to have their winter suits ready by the first of October.

Conductor Tom Durbin, engineer Joe Thompson, fireman Gray and brakeman Green and Cramer made up the crew in charge of the G. A. R. special which left for Cleveland at noon.

Brakeman F. W. Hill, of the north end local, is unable to work on account of a sprained ankle and brakiman John Cochran has been assigned his run.

Brakeman Allen has taken Brakiman Green's run on car 33 while the latter is on the Cleveland special, and Brakeman Lang has relieved Cramer, who was acting as baggage man in the place of Baldwin. Brakeman A.
B. Hill is on Lang's car, No. 41.

Conductor Smith of the north end local is sick and Conductor Beedle has relieved him.

Extra Conductor Light has been assigned to the Bowling Green branch local in the place of Conductor Phelps.
The latter has relieved Passenger Conductor Geo. 10 ter, who is taking a vacation.

Brakeman C. L. Jeffries, of the north end local, is laid up with a mashed finger, and extra Passenger Brakeman Synder is marked up in his place.

Passenger Conductor George Ritter, of North Baltimore, is spending a part of his vacation in Lima.

LESSONS

Drawn from Shooting of Pres. McKinley

Was the Topic of Dr. Thomson's Evening Sermon.

Does Not Believe the Present Laws are Adequate for the Protection of the Men Who Hold High Official Positions.

In every pulpit in Lima yesterday, words of sympathy, and prayers for the recovery of President McKinley, were offered, and at the west Market street church, Dr. Thomson preached a special sermon on the topic, "Lessons Drawn From the Shooting of President McKinley."

He began by saying that assassination was as old as the world and cited the familiar biblical instances of Cain's murder of his brother Abel because he was jealous of his favor. Comparing the shooting of McKinley with the assassination of Lincoln and Garfield, Dr. Thomson stated that the former was slain as a result of the heated passion aroused by the bloody strife between north and south, and Garfield was the victim of an insane man's deed; but the attempt on President McKinley's life was without provocation, and the news came like a bolt of lightning from a clear sky.

"One of the lessons to be drawn from this deed of a fanatic" said Dr.
Thomson "is that our laws are not adequate to the life we want to live as a nation. If Mr. McKinley dies we will have lost nearly 50 per cent, or to be exact, 43 per cent of our presidents by assassination in the past forty years. We are inadequate in our restraint of what we always so proudly refer to as personal liberty and American freedom, and we go to far in granting and furthering both. Had there been certain limitations this tragedy might never have occurred.

"The place for Emma Goldman is in jail and Herr Most should be there with her. As for the anarchists, I am heartily in favor of the suggestion made to me that they be banished to an island, far removed from civilization and a gunboat put there to guard it; and to be even surer of their complete isolation from society I would suggest that a few lepers be scattered among them.

"The anarchists can accomplish nothing—it is simply preposterous to suppose that the reins of government will ever fall into their hands. And what are the lives of all these worthless creatures as compared to that of one good man who falls a victim to their insidious motives.

"We are not protecting our chief executives and high officials as we should. We should allow passion in our discussions and do away with personal virulence, for who knows but what the first incentive to the crime just committed, was born of the vituperation heaped upon the head of our president. This whole nation is one, in spite of all its differences. We are splendid fighters; we are an enlightened and prosperous people, and our presidents, no matter what their politics, should receive the honor and

FALL FASHIONS FOR MEN

The Styles Generally Will Be Simple and Quiet.

DISTINCT NOVELTY IN FULL DRESS

Suit Will Be Made of Dark Gray Cloth With Collar of Shawl Pattern—The Tuxedo and Raglan Overcoat to Be Discarded—New Tie For Evening Wear.

A canvass of the smart tailors and haberdashers in New York reveals the fact that there are to be some radical innovations in men's wear this fall and winter, says the New York Times. The styles, as a rule, are to be simple, and every effort is to be made to make gentlemen as inconspicuous as possible. This is by the dictate of the best dressed Americans, men whose tastes direct what the best tailors do.

The most striking innovation for the fall and winter will be the discarding of the dinner coat, or Tuxedo. The best dressed men have decided that it is common, and the fashionable tailors are not making it for the coming season's wear. In fact, the edit has now gone forth that no coat is smart to wear at any formal function or in any place where ladies are to be present unless it has a tail to it. This is true for day as well as night. The evening jacket has come to be regarded as almost as negligible as a business coat.

There will, however, be a new coat something like the Tuxedo. This new coat will have breast and side pockets and a silk faced shawl collar and, unlike the dinner jacket, will close with two buttons. These coats are designed for home and club wear and are to be worn with single breasted waistcoats and trousers of the same material, white shirts, black ties and either lace or button shoes. They are just handy dress coats to wear to dinner or to lounge around the club in.

Another innovation is to be the banishment of the raglan overcoat—every kind of overcoat, in fact, except the skirted and Chesterfield patterns. The raglan has come to be considered common, and the decree has been promulgated that it must not be. The overcoats will fit the figure rather closely and will not look so conspicuous as the long flowing raglan.

Although the overcoat is to fit the figure very closely, the clothes are not to do so. The military coat has gone, except for the very military or athletic figure. The lines of the figure are not to be so accentuated as they have been heretofore. The new jacket will be loose and will have a perfectly straight back.

A distinct poverty in an evening suit will be made of a dark gray cloth, with a collar of the shawl pattern, the coat to be faced with gray silk. The trousers and waistcoat will be made of the same material as the coat. These suits are not expected to be worn except at stag affairs, at hotels and clubs and at the theater when women are not in the party.

"Smart" tailors are making trousers rather wide, but avoiding the pouter form. The trousers are about 17½ inches at the knee and 15½ inches at the bottom. They will hang perfectly straight from the hips.

In all evening clothes the white waistcoat will have a prominent place. These waistcoats will be made both single and double breasted and will have buttons covered with the same material of which the waistcoat is made. In the evening clothes most well dressed men will wear there will be no changes worth recording. The frock coat, too, will be virtually the same as last year.

The dark colored shirt is gone for the present. White shirts will prevail, and when colors are used at all they will be only in the simplest shades, generally in some small figure on a white background. The shirts will have fine lines, and the bosom will be just as wide as the chest of the wearer. A few of the dress shirts will have very fine ribbed pique bosoms, but the pique bosom is not so popular, and most shirts will have only the plain bosom. The colored shirts that are to be worn will be unusually neat. The figures are printed on madras or on satin broches or percales. The former fabrics are given more attention by the fine haberdashers than percales are. The figures are geometrical in black, dark blue, red or lavender. A few stripes, narrow and widely spaced, will also be worn. In collars there will be a reversion to the old wing design. The high turned down affair, it is expected, will gradually lose its vogue. There are to be some collars designed of an entirely new shape, but the prevailing styles will be the wing, the poke and the straight stander. These will be made in both wide and narrow stitching. The wing collar with the wide stitching will not be as smart as that with the narrow stitching, owing to the liability of the edge where the wing ends to swell and gap. The wing collars have well balanced, moderately spaced wings, the bottom of the wings forming a straight line. There will be some very large wings.

With the banishment of the high turned down collar the bow tie will go. There will be very few bows of any kind, notwithstanding the craze in England over the bow with the hanging wings. In all ties dark colors will prevail. The shades will be quiet, though distinct, and there will be some colors that have not before been introduced in the United States. One of these will be the pearly shade, which is a blending of a great variety of colors. You can look at a tie made of this coloring and see there any color you want to

And, it will be one of the season's real novelties.

All forms of cravats will be large. The cravats will be very broad and soft, and the ascots, as last year, will be wide of end and free of lining. The one time over ascot will again be popular. It is thought, and small stickpins will be worn with it. The best four-in-hand will have a wide end and be graduated to a two inch width at the knot. What bows will be sold at all will be of the batwing shape. For wear on evening occasions there is a new tie. It is cut perfectly straight, has square ends and is of uniform width throughout. When tied, it shows a square, flat centerpiece, and the ends stand out straight and come to the edge of the shirt bosom.

White gloves, heavy and with strong seams, are to be worn on all formal occasions except afternoon receptions. When the pearl gray glove will be proper. Pearl gloves for street wear will be no longer correct, only the dark stained kid, with self stitching and heavy seams, will be the thing. The pearl glove is considered too feminine for street wear, the haberdashers say.

There will be no stripes for the socks that will be worn this fall. The smartest designs will be hand embroidered in spots, diamonds and circles. The colors will be dark, and the hose will not be conspicuous at all.

It is rather early yet for the fall hats, but some of the hat makers have already shown a fall hat that is considered very smart. It is of soft felt, of dark gray color and has a brim 3½ inches wide. This brim is the distinctive thing about this hat covering. It is safe to say, however, that the smart hats will all have wide brims.

Shoes display an evolution. The style is a very heavy shoe, with large, rounded toe. Low shoes will be worn during the autumn and on pleasant days during the winter, but many look upon the low shoe as a winter fad. The patent leather shoes with kid tops will be the formal footwear. Shoes will be very plain for dress and quite elaborately trimmed for negligence and business wear.

MAGNETIC OBSERVATORY.

Description of One to Be Erected at Sitka.

A dispatch from Sitka to the San Francisco Chronicle says that the government will soon commence the construction there of a magnetic observatory for the terrestrial division of the coast survey. The observatory is one of four to be constructed by the government for the purpose of determining the deviation of the magnetic pole from the true north and will be one of the greatest importance to the coast survey in marking navigators' courses on the charts. At present it is known that there are ten or more years old are in many cases worthless owing to the deviation of the magnetic pole. It is to overcome this and correct errors in charts that the observatories are to be built. One is in operation at Chatham, Md., one is to be erected on the north Atlantic coast, one in Sitka and one in Honolulu.

The construction of the observatory involves infinite pains to insure the interior free from all effects of heat, cold and dampness. The walls, roof and floor will be of extraordinary thickness, packed with sawdust and having air spaces between the walls. Inside there will be a room containing the delicate mechanism necessary for the investigation. This mechanism will consist of small magnets suspended by mineral fibers. To each magnet will be attached a tiny mirror, on which a ray of light will be allowed to fall. This ray of light will be reflected on a slowly revolving cylinder covered with sensitized photographic paper. By this method the lateral deviation as well as the dip of the magnetic pole from the true north can be noted and allowances made. Dr. H. W. M. Edmunds of the coast survey is in charge of the work.

IRRIGATION RESERVOIRS.

Congress to Be Asked to Make Appropriations.

A popular movement in certain parts of the west is apt to have considerable attention before the next congress. It will be in favor of appropriation by the national government for the construction of irrigation reservoirs and attendant works for the reclamation of arid lands, says the Washington Star. Such work would open up an immense and rich field for settlement, and the land would be far more productive than is other land on the plains.

So productive will be this irrigated land that the extent of a homestead will doubtless be reduced to 40 instead of 160 acres, as many of those familiar with irrigated land of the kind of the millions of acres that could be made available in the west declare that one acre will be far more productive than four acres under ordinary conditions. More crops can be raised and with practically an assurance against failures. This movement for national appropriations for irrigating work will be opposed by men from some states, who will plead for "economy," and by many farmers of the middle west and east who do not care about increasing the competition they now have in the raising of cereals.

Small Fortune in a Wheat Bin.
John Walum, a farmer near Lincoln, Wis., found the other day in a bin of wheat a sack of gold, notes and securities placed there by his father, who died over two years ago, says the New York Times. Ever since the death of his father Mr. Walum had been looking for money which he was convinced his father had concealed somewhere on the farm. While measuring wheat preparatory to taking it to market the son found the sack of money and securities, the value of which runs over $2,000.

A Communication.

Mr. Editor—Allow me to speak a few words in favor of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I suffered for three years with bronchitis and could not sleep at nights. HIS SIXTH AERIAL SHIP.

What Santos-Dumont Says of His New Machine.

FUTURE OF STEERABLE BALLOONS.

Daring Brazilian Believes They Will Take the Place of Trains—Says His New Propeller Will Make About One Hundred and Sixty Revolutions a Minute.

M. Santos-Dumont, the daring balloonist, has been working day and night to complete his new flying machine, his sixth, in which he hopes to circle the Eiffel tower. Like Lytton, the question of expense never bothers him. He seeks the prize, no matter what it may cost.

"Everything is now ready for my next ascent," said M. Santos-Dumont to the Chicago American's Paris correspondent. "After weeks of prodigious labor since the wreck of my last balloon I have created another, and today (Aug. 31) for the first time I have taken things a bit leisurely. This balloon, which I call Santos-Dumont VI, seems to be satisfactory."

"It is only by experiment that we have been able to advance gradually until the conquest of the air is within our grasp. When the Santos-Dumont I, was built, we were groping. The Santos-Dumont VI, sees us within sight of the promised land. One becomes an aeronaut just as a man becomes a sailor, except that the former calling is much more exciting, and an aeronaut is never weighed down by a spirit of melancholy such as often marks the seaman."

"There are many fine points to be considered in making a balloon. Everything should be light and well made. The motor should be strong. The rudder of a good balloon must be exactly poised. The question of hydrogen is of prime importance. We manufacture it in our laboratory by pouring water and sulphuric acid over steel filings. It is then dried by passing through chloride of calcium, sawdust and lime. We remove the heavy, dangerous carbonic acid by a device containing caustic soda. This leaves the hydrogen very light, with a lifting power of more than 1,000 grams per cubic meter. Then there are automatic valves which on the one hand must not be too sensitive, yet must be sufficiently so. If not sensitive enough, the pressure upon the balloon becomes dangerous."

"The propeller of the new airship makes about 160 revolutions a minute. This enables me to make headway against the wind, although I will select the best weather conditions possible for my next trial. I expect little difficulty so far as ascensional capacity is concerned. The steering is a great question. I hope to make the trip from St. Cloud around the Eiffel tower in twenty minutes."

"It is no more a new invention for satiated appetite that this young South American millionaire is seeking. His daring flights are not for the purpose of creating temporary fame on the boulevard. He is studying this working seriously to solve the great problem of aerial navigation and has startling views of the future revolutions which may result from the present experiments."

"I look upon the Santos-Dumont VI, as the nucleus of a navy of airships," he said. "Within a few years the steerable balloons will take the place of trains. We shall sail over the Alps instead of tunneling through them. We shall cross the Atlantic without wetting our ship. We shall make a tour of the world in a time short enough to frighten even Fitzsimmons, the Chicago boy who went around the world in sixty days. The steerable balloon will be a faithful instrument of war. Its hovering presence would demoralize an army. The soldiers go to war, the king stays at home, but a balloon might be sent to dismantle his castle."

"A steerable balloon would have brought the empress of China promptly to her senses. It can be used for carrying all sorts of messages and can throw bombs from midair into ships and forts. With wireless telegraphy we can send messages back and forth to earth. Its possibilities are limitless."

King Alfred's Camp.

The approaching millenary of Alfred the Great lends special interest to the estate of Winklesbury, in Hampshire, now in the market, says the London Chronicle. It contains the well known circular camp of that name, said to have formed a stronghold of Alfred. Excavations just made by Reginald Smith of the British Museum have brought to light fragments of ancient British pottery. An examination was also made in the autumn of last year, and on both occasions bones of extinct animals have been discovered, showing traces of fire, probably sacrificial. The camp is believed to have existed before the Roman invasion. It was occupied as late as the seventeenth century by the parliamentary forces when besieging Basing House.

London Wants a Sanitary College.

A movement is on foot for the establishment of a sanitary college, the idea being the erection of a large building in which to carry on the work of education in sanitary science now being conducted at the Parkes museum, says a London correspondent. This last named institution was founded in 1878 in memory of the late Edmund Alexander Parkes, the first professor of hygiene in England. It is really a public demonstration school and has been the means of preparing a large number of men for useful public health work.

A Certain Cure for Dysentery and Diarrhoea.

"Some years ago I was one of a party that intended making a long bicycle trip," says F. L. Taylor, of New Albany, Bradford County, Pa.

"I was taken suddenly with diarrhoea and was about to give up the trip, when Editor Word, of the Laceyville Messenger suggested that I take a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I purchased a bottle and took two doses one before starting and one on the route. I made the trip successfully and never felt any ill effect. Again last summer I was almost completely run down with an attack of dysentery. I bought a bottle of this same remedy and this time one dose cured me." Sold by

FARM & GARDEN

CORNHOUSE AND GRANARY.

A Neat and Useful Combination Building For the Farm.

The accompanying illustrations from The Ohio Farmer convey an idea of an improved cornhouse and granary which is described as follows:

The corncrib and grain bins may be made self discharging without opening any part of the upper portion or without the use of a ladder or steps by placing floor joists at an angle as shown by dotted lines.

The projecting part of the floor is made the bottom of the bins and corncrib that is built upon it and is left open on the side next to the corncrib and grain bins, so that the corn will slide into it. A cover may be hung to the box so that it may be moved up when grain is taken out.

If one wishes to use a shovel for corn or grain, the opening into the bin or crib may be closed for a space of two feet either in the middle or at each

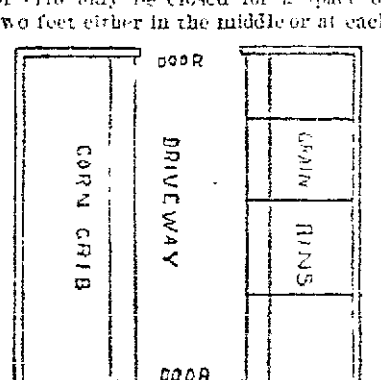

FIG. 2—FLOOR PLAN.

At the closed places there will be no grain or corn upon the floor of the box. It will be easy to shovel out the corn or grain.

Fig. 1 represents a section of the frame. Fig. 2 is the floor plan and Fig.
3 the end elevation.

Dimensions—28 feet long by 28 feet wide; height, 12 feet to plate line; driveway, 9 feet wide.

The building is designed to have a stone foundation, and the exterior is covered with seven-eighths inch drop siding. There are a pair of plain cornices, shingled roof and rolling doors.

This will make a useful building and just what is wanted on a well arranged farm.

WINTER WHEAT GROWING.

Early Plowing the Great Requisite.
Falling This, Use the Disk Harrow.

Growing wheat has not been as profitable for some farmers as other kinds of crops that could be grown at less expense. There is a feeling that any man can grow corn, but that it takes some skill and a great deal of high priced help and machinery to produce a crop of wheat.

Winter wheat is encroaching on new territory every year. Some good farmers who are careful, painstaking and progressive will bring in some new variety and will be successful in growing this cereal. Others will follow, some of whom will not be successful.

Neglecting to plow the ground early so that the soil will get thoroughly settled and compact is perhaps the cause of more complete failures than any other. Sometimes it is impossible for lack of moisture to plow ground at all when it should be done.

Where it is impossible to plow ground soon after harvest we would suggest running over clean stubble two or three times with a disk harrow, keeping up a general pulverization with whatever tool that will perform the work until the time for drilling. We would then drill the wheat, says Iowa Homestead. We are inclined to the opinion that this preparation will make a better seed bed than where plowing is done late and the grain drilled in freshly plowed ground with insufficient preparation.

Where it is possible to plow early it will give one and a half or two months from the time of plowing until drilling time.

Latitude and the presence of insect enemies will largely suggest the time of drilling wheat. This time varies from the second week in September until the middle of October.

Irrigation For Grass Land.

Irrigation for grass land should receive very much more attention in this part of the country. This could be adopted here as well as in the western country if the diversion of streams of some considerable size to a certain extent could be accomplished without interfering with manufacturers' rights.

Capital would play an important part here, says a Massachusetts farmer in American Agriculturist.

WHEN TO CUT CORN.

How to Use It to Best Advantage.
Cutting and Shocking.

An unusually large amount of corn will be cut this fall. The shortage of pasture made it necessary for many farmers to begin feeding to July. This long season will require an immense amount of forage, and as corn will be exceedingly scarce farmers will depend more than usual upon the fodder crop to carry their animals through. As a general rule, green fodder, particularly this year, is more valuable fed directly after cutting than at any other time if it is sufficiently mature to make good forage. In view of all this The American Agriculturist advises as follows:

The wise farmer therefore will utilize his corn crop to the best advantage. If he has stock that can be fattened on the whole corn plant before frost or at any rate partly fattened before that time, he will cut his corn now and feed it at once. If he can get his cattle or sheep to market before frost comes,
they will be more profitable than if he simply keeps them in good flesh, cuts and uses his corn and attempts to fatten them this winter when they are a little older.

Where corn is intended for fodder it should be allowed to mature fairly well before cutting is started. However, if a great deal is to be taken care of before cutting when it is still on the green order. Cut about one-half a sheaf, allow to cure a day or two, then cut the remainder. This will result in a fodder highly digestible, although not quite so heavy as it would have been had it remained uncut a week or so longer. If possible, the cutting should be delayed until the lower blades have died and the kernels are well dried. In other words, it should be well advanced in the dough stage.

The size of the sheaf will of course depend upon the character of the corn and somewhat upon the practice in the locality. In the central west sheaves sixteen hills square seem to be favorable, but further east smaller sheaves, ranging all the way from eight to twelve hills square, are most common.

This year the corn is short and can be handled very easily with a corn binder.

GATHERING SUGAR BEETS.

The Effect of New Fall Growth on the Sugar Content.

The time of harvesting sugar beets is governed by the time of the ripening of the beets. This ripening is made apparent by the outside leaves of the plant taking on a yellowish tinge and drooping to the ground. An experienced eye soon learns to detect a field of ripe beets that is ready for harvesting, the whole field being colored to this yellow tinge and the leaves showing this drooping tendency peculiar to the matured plant. The beets have now finished their work, and the next step of the grower must be governed by his locality. If he is in a locality where there is a probability of rain, the beets must be harvested and placed in silos.
This would be the case in most of the sections where rain conditions prevail, such places usually having strong rains in September and October, followed by more or less warm days. The effect of the rain will be to cause the beets to begin growing again, and new leaves will soon be noticed starting out, as well as new lateral roots from the beet in the soil, all the beets showing a general tendency to a second growth. Serious damage to the crop will soon be done in this way. The sugar content of the beet goes down materially, and its impurities increase, so that if the rains are marked and followed by warm days it is possible for a whole crop to be lost, so far as their fitness for factory purposes is concerned.

Root Storage.

Where there is no barn cellar for the storage of roots a place such as is shown in the cut from The Farm Journal can be improvised by double boarding a boxlike space at the side of the barn floor in the hay bay. This place should extend down to the ground, cutting through the floor of the bay,
and double the space below.

Use cedar boards for the lower part and bank the earth well about them on the outside. Leave an air

A Corner Stone

Is Laid and Blessed by Bishop Horstmann.

Thousands Attend and Wit-

Ceremonies.

An Imposing Street Parade Escorts
the Distinguished Bishop and Visiting Priests to the Scene.

The laying of the corner stone for St. John's church on the south side for which the pastor, Rev. Father Rupert, and the members of his congregation have been preparing for several weeks proved to be the most imposing and elaborate that has been held on the south side a many years. The program of the day had been well prepared and, favored by a magnificent day, every feature of the event was executed in a most pleasing and gratifying manner. Many visitors were in attendance from out of the city and among them were several distinguished members of the Catholic clergy. The civic parade given was participated in by the members of the local and visiting Catholic societies, whose badges, uniforms and banners lent beauty and dignity to the occasion and exemplified their loyalty to their faith. The assemblage attending and participating in the ceremonies of the day was a representative one and the splendid success of the affair, together with the devoted efforts of the able pastor of the parish and the excellent personnel of St. John's congregation predestinates a prosperous future for the new church and new parish.

The parade formed at the church grounds yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock and proceeded to the St. Rose parsonage at McKibben and West streets where the Rt. Rev. I. P. Horstmann, Bishop of the Cleveland diocese, the pastor of St. Rose church and visiting priests stepped into carriages and were escorted to the new church site near Vine street on south Main street. The parade was led by the marshals of the day: M. J. Sullivan, president of Division No. 1, A. O. H., and Thomas Phalen, president of Division No. 2, A. O. H., and the societies participating in the parade in separate bodies were Marion (O.) division of the A. O. H., divisions No. 1 and No. 2 of the A. O. H. of this city, Uniform Rank Knights of St. John, and members of that order without uniforms. Catholic Knights of America and Catholic Knights of Ohio, Lima's band and the Lima City band furnished music for the parade.

Many visiting members of the several Catholic societies who did not come to the city in organized delegations joined in the parade, members being present from Sidney, Dayton, Celina, Wapakoneta and other towns of northwestern Ohio. Between five and six hundred men were in line when the parade moved from St. Rose parsonage to the church grounds and there several thousand more citizens and visitors joined the societies to witness the appropriate ceremonies attending the formal laying of the corner stone. Into the corner stone there was placed a copper box which contains a brief history of St. John's congregation, some coins and copies of the Times-Democrat and Republican-Gazette. The corner stone was laid by Bishop Horstmann, who, in conducting the impressive ceremonies, was assisted by the Rev. N. Schmitz, of Monroeville, as deacon, and by the Rev. A. E. Manning, of St. Rose church, as sub-deacon. At a cross erected near the church foundation the celebrants procured blessed water and proceeded to the corner stone where they chanted the litany of the saints. The stone was blessed and laid by the Bishop and the other corners were also blessed and springled.

After the conclusion of the formal laying of the stone an eloquent address was delivered by Bishop Horstmann and unfortunately all who were present could not hear the distinguished speaker on account of the crowd being so large.

The ladies of the new parish as well as the committees and the pastor, Father Rupert, are to be congratulated for the excellent manner in which the large number of visitors who arrived on the various morning trains, were cared for. The ladies served an excellent dinner under a large tent and all were pleased with the manner in which their comforts were cared for. The members of the clergy who attended the assisted Bishop Horstmann in the ceremonies attending the important event were: Rev. Andrew Kiehl, C. P. S. of Ottawa; Fr. Shreck, C. P. S. of Kalida; D. Sebunk, C. P. S. of St. Henry; S. Weber, of Van Wert; N. Schmitz, of Monroeville; M. Vollmayer, of Custer, O.; Rev. A. B.anning, Rev. J. B. Mooney and the pastor of the new church, Rev. Father Rupert, Rev. P. J. O'Connell, of Cleveland, and formerly of this city, was also present.

Bishop Horstmann conducted mass at the Wheeler hall for the congregation of St. John's church yesterday morning and during his sermon at these services he expressed his sorrow occasioned by the attempted assassination of President McKinley and a sincere hope that the life of the nation's chief executive may be spared.

FUNERAL

A Loving Tribute Paid by Loyal Friends to the Memory of a Noble Christian Woman.

In beautiful Woodlawn, the silent city of the dear departed, the remains of Mrs. F. M. Prather were tenderly laid to rest Saturday afternoon.

The services, beginning at 3 o'clock, were very impressive and the large clusters and bouquets of flowers were most beautiful. The large number of sorrowing friends who attended the last sad rites to pay silent tribute to the memory of the great goodness of Mrs. Prather, showed most clearly, the respect and love the many held for this good woman.

The beautiful song by Abt. "When Weary Eyes Close," was impressively rendered by Mrs. Chas. Collins.

In his sermon, Rev. Figley, in eloquent terms, eulogized Mrs. Prather as one of the best and noblest of women; faithful in her duties as wife and mother; conscientious as a Christian and friend.

At the grave, a quartette sang "Asleep in Jesus," as the casket was lowered by the pall bearers, Messrs. F. C. McCoy, P. A. Holland, F. P. Leland, A. Crow, F. M. Allen and J. C. Ross.

In life, Mrs. Prather was a woman whose character and good influence made the world much better, because of her existence.

Frederick Roeder and his wife have again kissed and made up. Mrs. Roeder having for the second time within the year placed her faith in his promises, and late Saturday evening Roeder was released, bond in the sum of $1,000 being furnished by his wife and Mrs. Getz.

Mrs. Roeder stated to Justice Duffield, before whom the complaint was made that she believed her husband would behave himself and not offer to harm her again, and that trusting in his promises of decent behavior, she would have the charge of assault withdrawn. Roeder is feared by his wife and children and not without cause for both times that his arrest brought officials to the home near Lima. Mrs. Roeder was found painfully hurt. He has been in jail a month which to him is not a slight punishment.

"Aunt Jane" Maguire, Who was One of Lima's Oldest and Best Women,

Died at Her Home on McDonel Street Yesterday Morning—Funeral Services to be Held Tomorrow.

Mrs. Jane Maguire, better known perhaps to many of the older citizens of this city as "Aunt Jane," died yesterday morning at her home on south McDonel street. General debility and the effects of an injury received some months ago, are given as the cause which led to her demise.

A better and more favorably known woman than "Aunt Jane," Lima or Allen county never held. Nearly half a century ago, when this city was but a mere primitive village, perhaps nothing more than a hamlet, "Aunt Jane," in order to raise her children in the right way, the children rendered fatherless by the hand of death, started a boarding house in a building on the site now occupied by the Hohl block on south Main street. Things were different in those days. Money was more scarce but for that reason the good fellowship around the festive table at the boarding house of "Aunt Jane" Maguire was, if anything more real and went a great way toward encouraging the young men toward making their lives successful after years. The matronly character the conscientious and tactful life of "Aunt Jane" made "her boys" as she was wont to call them, feel that there was at least one place like their own home, one blessed person who took an unusual interest in them and their lives; one who smiled with them in their victories and cheered them when reverses came. Such was the life of Mrs. Jane Maguire.

A few days before the end came, she remarked to an old friend that she was patiently waiting. Surely there was nobody on earth more ready to meet her maker than "Aunt Jane" Maguire.

Her Life.

In Bridgeport, Belmont county, O., on the 9th of October, 1812, Mrs. James Maguire was born. In that vicinity she grew to young womanhood. She was the type of young American woman, whose courage, fortitude and goodness went far to advance the interests of the middle west at a time when such women were most needed. In 1831, she with her husband, came from Belmont county to Piqua by boat, then to this county in a freight wagon. Five years later Mr. Maguire died and it was shortly after his demise that the illustrious boarding house was started. Surviving her are three sons, H. Nelson Maguire, of Toledo; Elijah J. Maguire, city trustee of Lima, and Samuel F. Maguire, of Kentucky. Miss Lelia Maguire and Mrs. George Schnabel, grand daughters of the deceased, reside here. Besides these are seven grand children in the western part of the county and one great grand child.

The funeral services will be conducted at the residence, by Rev. Brundige, pastor of the Wayne street church of Christ, tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Rev. Brundige will be assisted by Rev. Sims. The relatives desire that all who wish to view the remains, do so before the services begin. Interment will take place in Woodlawn.

REVIVAL

Services at the South Side Church of Christ.

At south side church of Christ yesterday, hundreds of women listened to evangelist Sims in the afternoon and promised to work for souls. A great crowd greeted the evangelist at the night service; intense interest prevailed. Bro. Hardy, of the Y. M. C. A., opened the service. The south side quartette rendered a number. Mr. Sims' topic tonight is "Objections and Objections." Bro. Underwood will lead the song service. Special numbers of songs will be rendered at each service. Come to the meeting tonight.

In a number of places where the shooting of the President was being discussed yesterday, says to-day's Enquirer, the name of George Foster, the Secret Service man who was with him and who grabbed the would-be slayer and forced him to the ground, was mentioned frequently.

"I remember Foster very well," said Mr. Lewis G. Bernhard, "in fact, every time I am in Washington he calls upon me and talks over old times. Foster lived here in the eighties, and toward the latter part removed to Wyandot county. In 1890, when a Democratic Legislature was elected, he was a candidate for Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms of the House, and it was owing to the support of his old friends, from this county that he secured the position. Then Brice was elected United States Senator, and a whole lot of us asked him to take care of Foster, which he did by getting him in the Secret Service under 'Billy' Hazen. Foster is a most capable man, and of the greatest physical courage, and it is safe to say that if he had had an opportunity he would have risked his own life to save that of the President."

THE STAGE.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Among the notable scenes of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" which comes to Faurot's Wednesday, is the St. Claire home, with its fragrant magnolia and orange trees; Legree's cottage plantation on the Red river with the cotton in full bloom; the wild rocky pass in southern Ohio, and the ice-choked Ohio river by moonlight. The transformation, entitled "The Celestial City," is said to be the most magnificent tableau ever conceived. A grand street parade, a quarter of a mile in length, will be given at noon.
